

Do you have to tell me or dear people if you want to follow me I know you all say yes But when I hear you, I'm so joyful to you Because you've come for so many years And I make you never tired You're dear children I want to say, For so long I've been here I've never seen you tired I'm so pleased I'm always waiting for you And bring some family members with you - even children, grandchildren I'm so pleased I'm always waiting for you as a little kid Waiting for her children I've already written it several times But I see that my children will not follow you But tomorrow will regret Why do you say, "My padre, my mother has followed for so many years" Those who do not follow is because she does not respect Lord I am with you for two thousand years Yet I am not yet tired I tell you why, all these years, and I am not tired of My people That's why the people do not follow me Because he does not respect the Lord And they have to say, "I have no time, I have no time" In the first place you must always put the Lord Instead of those who put it, when it is time, they do not respect the Lord When He needs Me That people must go a long way Because I do not even look them They go too far to meet me but they will never meet me Now I greet you little people with so much joy in the Heart And give you so much strength and so much opportunity to come to you soon.
